Juvenile Justice:

Juvenile Community Programs

The Juvenile Community Programs section provides community-based alternatives (programs, residential alternatives and court sanctions) for youth that are at risk of juvenile delinquency, or that have been alleged to have committed a criminal offense, or that have been adjudicated delinquent by the Juvenile Court. Community Programs options range from services for at-risk youth, to diverted/dismissed juveniles (youth with official juvenile court complaints that are diverted or dismissed at intake), court-supervised juveniles, as well as those returning to the community from a youth development center on post-release supervision.

Juvenile Community Programs consists of the following core components:

Juvenile Crime Prevention Council (JCPC) Programs, funded through a state and local partnership in all 100 counties; Statewide Residential Contractual Services , including short-term residential facilities and multipurpose group homes; and Non-Residential Contractual Services, home-based dispositional alternatives and re-entry transitional services for those youths returning home from a residential placement.

The Center for Safer Schools is also part of Juvenile Community Program. The N.C. Center for Safer Schools serves as the state's primary point of contact on issues dealing with school safety and the prevention of youth violence. It provides a one-stop shop of school safety information and customer services to schools, law enforcement, youth-serving agencies, juvenile justice officials, community leaders, policymakers, parents and students

Juvenile Facilities

Juvenile Facility Operations operates two types of secure commitment centers for youths in North Carolina: juvenile detention centers and youth development centers. Juvenile detention centers temporarily house youths alleged to have committed a delinquent act or to be a runaway. Youths are generally placed in a juvenile detention center while awaiting a court hearing, or until another placement can be found, either in a community-based program or service or in a youth development center. Youth development centers are secure facilities that provide education and treatment services to prepare committed youth to successfully transition to a community setting. This type of commitment is the most restrictive, intensive dispositional option available to the juvenile courts in North Carolina. The structure of the juvenile code limits this disposition to those juveniles who have been adjudicated for violent or serious offenses or who have a lengthy delinquency history.

Juvenile Court Services

Juvenile Court Services provides intake and supervision services for undisciplined and delinquent juveniles within a continuum of services that provides care and control. The mission of Juvenile Court Services is to keep communities safe by holding juveniles accountable for their actions and to prevent future delinquent behavior by providing or securing services to meet the needs of the juvenile and his or her family. This mission is carried out in accordance with laws and court orders and in full collaborations with multiple community agencies.

Juvenile Treatment & Intervention Services

Juvenile Treatment and Intervention Services ensures appropriate clinical treatment and youth development interventions for youth served in juvenile justice facilities and programs. Clinical treatment/programming includes medical, psychiatric, dental, nutritional, psychological, substance abuse, recreational, spiritual, and case management services. Additionally, this unit provides oversight of the education programming in youth development centers, juvenile detention centers, and contracted community-based residential programs, and is charged with fulfilling all state and federal mandates of a traditional school system.

ACJJ Administration:

Correction Enterprises

- Agriculture • Braille production • Printing • Janitorial products
- Optical • Metal products • Furniture and reupholstery
- Clothing and embroidery • Highway signs and license tags • Laundry

Rehabilitative Programs and Support Services

The goals of the section include promoting public safety, improving offender behavior, and reducing re-offending. Utilizing evidence-based practices as the foundation of all programs and services, offenders are prepared with the necessary skills and tools to live as productive members of the community. The section focuses on offender programs and services in the major areas of substance abuse, cognitive behavioral programs, educational attainment, vocational training, victim services, and reentry and transition pre-release and post-release planning.
