

The CCPS All-Points Bulletin

October 2003

A Message from the Secretary

As we continue the work to help our citizens recover from Hurricane Isabel, I want to once again thank all of you for the extraordinary effort that took place to prepare for and respond to the storm. North Carolina was hit hard, but we didn't encounter the problems that some other states did because we applied the knowledge learned from previous events. We still have a lot of work ahead of us to get the folks who live down east back on their feet. Thank you for all you are doing in that effort, and in your regular activities.

We're well into the State Employees' Combined Campaign for 2003. Hopefully, your Division Coordinator has already made sure you've received your "Partners in Giving" brochure and had a chance to ask questions about the annual charitable giving campaign. You have until the end of November to return the form with your contribution.

During the past few years the average contribution from CCPS employees has increased annually. However, the number of folks participating has dwindled. We want to be sure that every member of our team -- busy as we are -- has a chance to learn about the benefits of giving through the SECC. For example, the campaign is run by and for state employees, so your contribution goes further and not into overhead costs. If CCPS increased participation by just 10% and contributors gave just $1 more per month, we could raise nearly $57,000 for charities of your choice!

If you have not been contacted and/or don't know who your coordinator is, call your Division Director or Neil Woodcock, the Department SECC Coordinator, at 919-773-2823. They will make sure someone answers your questions. CCPS has a well-deserved reputation for helping others. Take advantage of this opportunity to help by giving through the State Employees' Combined Campaign.

Bryan E. Beatty
